

HOLLOWAY PRISON

CONSULTATION

10 May 2019

The site

Peabody and London Square have committed to:

- Delivering over 1000 new homes
- 60% of which will be affordable – one of Islington’s largest single affordable housing communities
- Maximise opportunities for local employment and training throughout the construction phases
- Design and build a women’s building
- A mix of tenures throughout the site
- A long term approach to site ownership
- Phasing of the scheme to include affordable

The consultation process

- Peabody and London Square have written to over 9500 local residents and businesses with details of the plans for the site
- written to dozens of stakeholder groups identified with the help of Islington Council
- We have been conducting tours of the site, so far over 120 people have been around
- An early stage consultation – before decisions have been taken on layouts, permeability and public realm have been taken
- Workshops over the summer on the key themes – from the initial engagement these have been identified as design & height; public realm & permeability; women’s building and occupiers; sustainability – these will be confirmed through more detailed consultation
- A second stage consultation to demonstrate how ideas have been taken on board
- Publicly available documents – consultation materials etc – on the hollowayprisonconsultation.co.uk website
- A roundup exhibition to show the final scheme being submitted
- Timely written updates throughout the project as required
- Tours of the site throughout the project

Contact

- The project website will be kept up to date with information
- The email and phone line will be staffed with the same team members throughout the project
- We will establish a consultation hub on site to allow for small meetings, presentations, exhibitions and information sharing throughout the project
